

THE DAILY NEWS.

FRIDAY.....APRIL 3, 1874.

JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.

The DAILY NEWS is now the only paper in Raleigh that gives every morning the latest markets and other telegraphic reports. The public should note this fact.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

The Virginia Senate has defeated the dog tax.

Major W. T. Sutherlin, of Danville, Va., is the Master of a Grange.

New York has a larger number of theaters in proportion to population, than any city in the world.

The Erie Railroad strikers have been forced at the point of the bayonet to submit and peace reigns at Susquehanna Depot.

They have got a Judge Watts in Portsmouth. The people of this in Judicial District are glad to hear it. "Misery loves company."

Some papers note the fact of March going out in a storm. That's funny, the condition of affairs when married men leave home.

Congressman Beck has his Bill of Congressional honors and refuses to be a candidate for re-election. The place beckons another man.

The British heroes who whipped out a mob of naked niggers in Australia were reviewed in Windsor Park on Monday by the royal family.

The fifth annual convention of the United States Railroad Mutual Life Insurance Association will be held in Richmond, Va., on the 15th inst.

Gotham receives much credit, and deservedly so, for her munificient character. Would it be too bad if it hadn't one redeeming feature?

Portsmouth, Va., is diligent because her apple-poisoning case has been located in Portsmouth, N. H. Get up another one and take better care of it.

The New York Herald is down in inflation, as far as the national currency is concerned, but not mind inflating its columns with Wall street financials.

A sentimental exchange says that love at two-and-twenty is a terribly intoxicating draught. Our experience tells us that stink-mad whisky at 7:10 (before breakfast) is worse.

It is thought probable that a Congressional investigating committee will be sent to South Carolina to examine into affairs and snuff the "great law giver," Moses, out of the burlap.

The Portsmouth "Enterprise" apologizes for having called the dismal Swamp Canal "the very center." We know that the canal has paid not a single cent dividend to the State on her stocks.

Miss-Gov. William Smith, of Virginia, informs the public that he is not a candidate for Congress. He thinks there are too many extra-vagant bills there already for instance his namesake from this State.

An exchange says that in twenty years most probably all the prominent actors in politics now will be dead. It has been a sad misfortune to the country that nine-tenths of them did not die twenty years ago.

The impression at Richmond is, we learn, that the motion for a new trial for Coleman will fail. That the evidence that he sank funds, for personal uses, properly belonging to the Virginia Sinking Fund is too strong.

The unglant Constitutional Convention of Ohio have refused to make segewa. This may be a piece of genuine spite. The women of that State are particularly active in the temperance movement.

The turbulent Roebert has really made his escape from New Meltonia, Boston, and will be back in Paris kicking up another three-cent and indolent shindy. He says he's coming to this country to lecture. We ask the prayers of the civilized world.

A wealthy firm in North Carolina have been prospecting for an eligible location for a cotton factory in Edgecombe, and are probably to be located at Marion.—Virginia Exchange.

As North Carolinians they ain't much of a success, and they won't go out of the State to do that which could so well be done in it.

They seem to be trying to make a perfect Poland out of Virginia, as far as dismemberment is concerned. West Virginia has been sliced off and now they are talking of "Middle Virginia." If this is done the remnant will be a poorland indeed. It will be a sort of a South Carolina nigger colony.

The Durham Tobacco Plant says it is high time the Conservative party of the State was up and organizing. It says it can conscientiously give a hearty support in that Judicial District to Col. THOMAS RUFFIN.

The Charlotte Observer of the 1st inst. announces the fact that Mr. JOHNSTONE JONES has sold that paper to Messrs. CHARLES R. JONES and FREDERICK H. PENDLETON. Mr. JOHNSTONE JONES will continue as editor of the paper. Mr. CHARLES R. JONES has recently been engaged in publishing the Statesville Intelligencer. We wish the new firm much success, and are pleased to learn that our friend JOHNSTONE does not retire from the editorial world.

Well Done Raleigh.

We have just seen a circular letter from Memphis, Tenn., from HUGH A. HAMILTON, Agent of the Southern Express Company, returning thanks for the donations made to the suffering people of that city while being scourged by the yellow fever. The circular is countersigned by A. J. WHEELER, Secretary of the Masonic Relief Board, G. W. COOK, Vice-President of the I. O. O. F. Relief Committee, and A. E. FRANKLAND, President Hebrew Relief Association, and contains a list of the amounts sent by the various towns and cities of the country. The total foots up the sum of $8,862.28, of which our fair little city contributed $1,047.63. This is a good showing for Raleigh, and reflects credit upon the generosity of her citizens. We have never known a proper appeal made to the liberality and sympathy of our people that was not generously and promptly responded to. We say again, well done, beautiful little city of Oaks! This contribution to the Memphis sufferers only has reference to that fund which passed through the Southern Express Company. Some $150,000 were contributed altogether.

THE New Orleans Picayune is much encouraged as to the future state of the rice crop in Louisiana. Last year it reached 100,000 barrels. The Picayune looks upon this industry much more hopefully than upon the sugar culture in that State, and says that the rice planting this spring will be the most extensive on record. Another year, it is said, will put Louisiana ahead of the Carolinas as a rice producer, and the crop will reach enormous proportions in the next decade.

The great revenue case, in which the notorious SANBORN, HAWLEY and VANDERWERK are interested, began on Monday in the U. S. Circuit Court at Brooklyn. These parties were charged with having conspired with each other to defraud the Government out of money collected for legacy and successive taxes, and the complicity of BOUTWELL and BUTLER has been strongly suspected.

The case ended on Tuesday afternoon in an acquittal on a point of law. The indictment could not stand. There was no conspiracy and fraud under the contract of SANBORN with Mr. BOUTWELL. So absurd was the agreement worded by which the delinquent taxes were collected, that a suspicion is excited as to the hand which General BUTLER, that admiral of roguery, and the friend of SANBORN, had in it.

The Greensboro New North State publishes the election law adopted at the late session of the Legislature. Editorially it says the clause requiring a voter, when challenged at the polls, to prove by the oath of some other person known to the judges the fact that he is entitled to a vote was only intended to embarrass voters in the exercise of the privilege of suffrage. Says that paper: "Republicans everywhere should be prepared to overcome the effect of this legislation by having men at the polls to meet all the requirements of the law." In other words, some man or men should be kept at every precinct for this purpose, whose consciences are sufficiently elastic to enable them to swear anything. Brother BALL doubtless forgets the fact that in 1872 some two thousand illegal negro votes were polled in the First Congressional District alone—negroes imported from other States for this especial purpose and used successfully. How much similar work was done in other portions of the State remains to be discovered.

THE New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says that the Senate shows no indication of an early consideration of the Transportation bill, and states that the opponents of the measure assert that the passage of the bill on the ground that it will lead to the assumption by the government of complete control over all the railroads of the country, whether Inter-State or local, and that it will be much easier for them to deal with the government commission than with thirty-seven different States. It is further argued that the proposed commission would be removed from the influence of the Granger movement, which begins to exert such a large power in the legislatures of some of the Western States as to give a good deal of trouble to the railroad companies. The bill which the House passed is characterized as a bungcombe performance, showing how anxious the Republicans are to carry favor with the Grangers.

A Graded School in Raleigh. The committee of citizens appointed to take this matter into consideration have reported no progress, for four reasons, the main one being lack of funds, and failure to believe in the probability of sustaining such a school by voluntary contributions. Now what we have to say in the matter is this, first, that a graded school of a high class can be established in this city and should by all means be, and second, that the bulk of the money has been raised already according to law, and third, that the citizens will voluntarily contribute to the project when put into energetic and trustworthy hands. In making these assertions not the slightest reflection on the committee is intended, or on the gentlemen themselves, since they have opened the way for the beginning of the movement, and it now behoves the press and the people to hold up their hands and not to let them faint by the way, as they seem inclined to do. The Educational Committee reported to the Citizen's Committee sufficient funds raised by taxation to begin. But the Sheriff of this country has never paid this money over, and thus the children are without a school. For this wrong there is a remedy. The money is due, past due, and this community is suffering from its not being paid into the treasury. The committee should have demanded the cash according to agreement, therefore, held their ground and told the people that the school can and will be established in this city, and have called for voluntary contributions to assist in the undertaking. Then, too, the assistance promised from the Peabody School Fund should not be lost sight of.

Now is the time for a bold stand to be taken, and we trust the committee will meet once more and take such a stand in the premises.

A graded school once put into operation will so command itself to our people that they will sustain it forever. Look at the advantages we have already! The bulk of the money to commence with has been paid to the Sheriff already; he is good for it, or else his bond is good; and besides we have an admirable public building for the purpose in the Governor's old mansion. Now what more can the people of Raleigh wish? Do they desire some one to come here, build the house for them, import and support the teachers, and hire a policeman to gather the children into the doors by force. No, all they have asked for is a fair chance, and they have it now if they will only move on and demand the money which is due them, past due them as we have before said.

A graded school containing from 350 to 500 pupils can be thus commenced this year. The classes will be graded according to requirements and intelligence, the best teachers appointed, the work of raising the children from one scholarship to another be systematically and rapidly carried forward. Thus fully or nearly half a thousand children will commence a course of practical, valuable education.

Who can over estimate the advantages which would ensue?

They are incalculable. The duty of the press is, therefore, plain. It should demand justice for the children now growing up in ignorance, and further this movement by every means in its power. Let us have the money. Let us have voluntary contributions. Then we can have the school. And in the meantime we appeal to the committee to go ahead and push the matter.

The entire community is with them and will applaud their efforts. Go ahead, gentlemen! There is day light before you.

grease, soap-grease, varigated, tallow-grease, boarding-house breakfast, interior tub, common tub, medium roll, good roll, and gilt-edge roll. The terms are strictly technical.

The Wilmington Express learns that Capt. Ed. Everett, of the Wilmington and Weldon Road, has been offered Lieutenant in the Federal Army, and that he will probably accept it.

The U. S. mail car at Union depot, Wilmington, was broken into on Sunday, and several bags of mail matter taken therefrom. On Monday the bags were found in the woods not far from the scene of the Willie Carter murder, cut open and their contents scattered on the ground, the letters having all been opened. It is supposed that only about $50 rewarded the thieves for their trouble.

Says the Washington Express of the 30th ult.: "While the train was returning from Jamestown to Washington, on Thursday evening last, and when approaching Deep Run station, the engineer and fireman, seeing a piece of scantling across the track, not too late, however, to prevent a disaster; the cars struck it, and were thrown from the track, demolishing one of the cars, throwing the tender off, and killing a colored man by the name of John Leary."

Edmund Yates gives the following story of Dickens' reconciliation with Douglas Jerrold: "Mr. Dickens, who was a member of the Garrick Club, was entertaining some friends in the stranger's room, while Jerrold, as a stranger, was dining with another member. As it happened, the tables were contiguous, and after a little while Jerrold suddenly wheeled round his chair to the other table and cried, 'I can't listen to your voice as a stranger any longer. For God's sake, shake hands!' Dickens instantly complied, and the old intimacy was as firm as ever."

When Charles Lamb was invited at a public dinner to say grace, and responded with the remark: "Is there no minister present? Then let us thank God!" he was a satirist and knew it. When sheep do not go to Vermont, it opens the country.

Country girls, All persons having causes or matters pending therein, pray now, and they shall be heard, and God save the people!" he was a satirist and didn't know it.

We do not know who could possibly be more in need of a helpmate than Mr. Ross, of Florence, Ala. He never walked a step in his life. He has just taken No. 2. At his first marriage, he was supported at the side of the bride in a huge basket, but he went through the second ceremony held up by the side of the bed, out of which he got for the purpose.

A school girl at Ashland was recently engaged upon a composition, the subject being the loss of life to persons by falling from buildings. The theme appears to have so interested her that during the night she crept from her bed in a state of somnambulism and leaped from the window of her room to the road beneath, a distance of nearly thirty feet, inflicting fatal injuries.

A few days since the roadmaster of the Rock Island road, with a companion, traveled from Washington to Macon, on hand cars, propelled entirely by a sail about six feet square. The strong wind blowing at the time enabled him to make the trip—forty miles—in just two hours, the average time made by passenger trains.

Turkey and Russia are said to be equally preparing for war against each other. Turkey is purchasing canons and pushing the construction of railways, and Russia is rebuilding Sebastopol, making all the men of the empire liable to military duty, and adding iron monsters to her Black Sea fleet.

David Khilakan, the new King of Hawaii, is about forty years of age, and has held a seat in the House of Nobles, and been Chamberlain to Kamehameha V. He is a native, and opposed to foreign control. His grandfather was hanged for poisoning his wife.

NOON DISPATCHES.

A Terrible Tragedy in Nevada.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—A despatch from Austin, Nevada, to-night gives the particulars of a horrible tragedy in Seneca Valley in that state. It appears that Christopher Beckstein had been for a long time jealous of his wife in consequence of the attention paid to her by a young man named Norton, and they had frequent quarrels about him. Yesterday a man named Oster, went to Beckstein's house and receiving no response to his demands for admission broke open the door. On the floor lay the naked body of Mrs. Beckstein cut into pieces and her head split open. At her feet were the bodies of their two little girls, their heads nearly severed from their bodies, and near by was Beckstein in a death struggle, Beckstein grasped in his right hand a large bowie knife covered with blood, and in Norton's right hand was a dragon pistol, two chambers of which were discharged. There is no living witness to the terrible affair.
